Civil War 150 Year Commemoration Series

Join NWDC 2 July 2012 for the first event in a series of educational tours of Civil War battlefields. These events are designed to commemorate and learn from the terrible clashes that occurred 150 years ago among American States, towns, and brothers.

Expert historians will guide us through the leadership characteristics, command and control, principles of war, and tactics that were employed during major battles of the war. The event 2 July will focus on the culmination of the Peninsula Campaign. It will start at 0930 at the Glendale Battlefield Center and from there proceed to the Malvern Hill Battlefield for a two hour guided tour.
